Hi!

We're so glad that you're attending Bitcamp 2018! We'll be your primary contacts, and we will be able to answer any questions you might have leading up to the event as well as during the weekend of Bitcamp. We want you to have the best sponsor experience possible, so please don't hesitate to reach out!

This guide details logistics for the event as well as Bitcamp's history, some new things we're doing this year, and information about the surrounding College Park area. Beyond logistics details, we have also included a list of sponsor tips for you to get the most out of your sponsorship.

We're here for you at all times! Please let us know how we can make your Bitcamp experience a weekend to remember.

See you by the campfire!

DAY-OF CONTACTS

We're here to answer any and all questions you may have throughout the weekend! If for some reason you cannot find or reach us, just look for another organizer or volunteer!

At Bitcamp, we use bandanas to differentiate between various roles: organizers wear red bandanas, volunteers wear white bandanas, and mentors wear orange bandanas. We will provide sponsors with light blue bandanas when you arrive at the venue. Please keep these with you at all times!

OUR HISTORY

The idea of Bitcamp was conceived by a group of UMD students back in 2013. “Camp” represented an event that evoked togetherness, warmth, and adventure. “Bit” was the embodiment of tech. Bit+camp = Bitcamp! The first ever Bitcamp focused on the idea of YOU+TECH, where participants (“Bitcampers”) were encouraged to take something they loved and fuse it with technology. The team focused on collaboration, fun, and a commitment to the Bitcamp experience, which are all values we carry forward today.

2018 THEME

Paying homage to Bitcamp’s founding idea of YOU+TECH, our theme this year is “Mark Your Trail.” We want to encourage each individual to apply their interests and passions to technology, and use Bitcamp as a milestone to make a mark on their unique path. To highlight the diverse fields of interest, we’ve launched the Bitcamp Trails program detailed in the next page.

BITCAMP TRAILS PROGRAM

One of our aims this year is to expose students to the diverse opportunities available in the expansive world of tech. Whether they're a new or veteran hacker, or whether they want to use their skills in design or entrepreneurship, we want to provide a meaningful way for each individual to Mark Their Trail.

Below we've included a brief description of each program to give you an idea of the different interests that each is catered toward. For sponsors, our Trails program can also be a great branding opportunity for you to discover and interact with students who have different backgrounds and ways of thinking!

HACKER TRAIL

The classic hackathon experience! We encourage hackers to build anything cool that comes to mind and to try new technologies. The sky is the limit, and we will have plenty of workshops with topics ranging from Web Development to Machine Learning.

VENTURE TRAIL

The bustling world of entrepreneurship can be hard to navigate, so we want to offer the opportunity to hear from key players in the startup space: venture capitalists and student entrepreneurs! Venture Trail workshops are geared towards taking hacks to the next level and working on a venture as a student and beyond.

DESIGN TRAIL

Designers will act as mentors and contributors to multiple teams throughout the weekend, while developing and adding to a portfolio of their designs (their "Bitfolio"). Their Bitfolios will be judged at the end of the hackathon as its own type of project.

SCOUT TRAIL

First-time hackers will learn how to combine their interests with tech to create something awesome. We will have beginner-oriented workshops to guide first-timers through the world of coding and hacking, covering essentials such as team formation, leveraging mentors, and submitting a project.

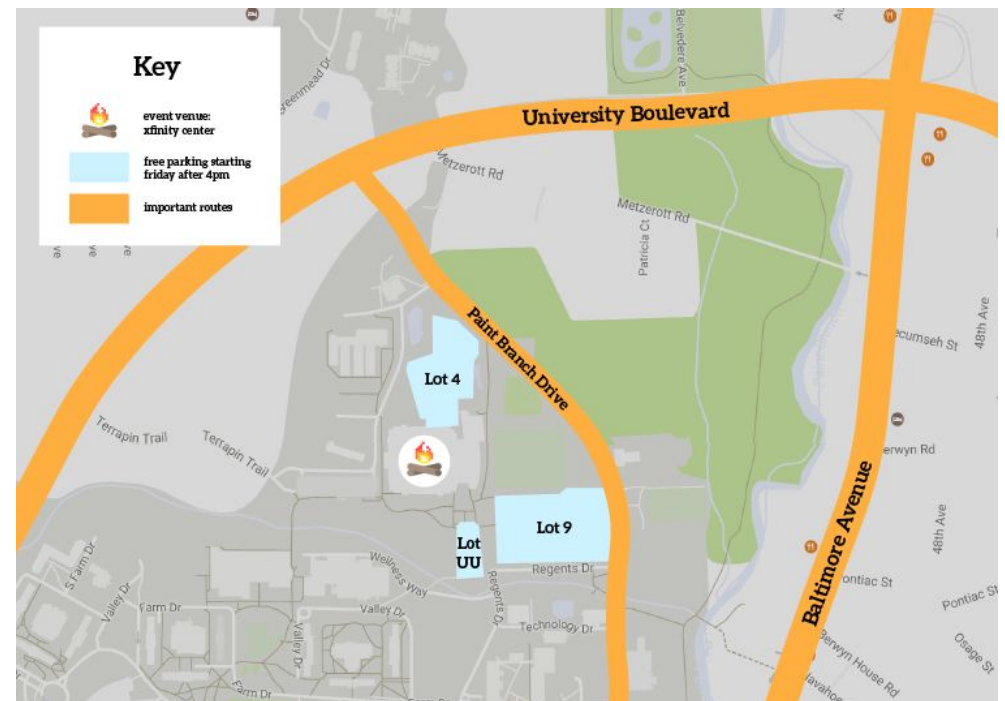

LOCATION

Xfinity Center
8500 Paint Branch Dr

GETTING THE MOST OUT OF BITCAMP

We want you and your company to get the most out of sponsoring Bitcamp, so we've put together a few tips!

EFFECTIVELY USING SLACK

Like many other hackathons, we will be using Slack for communication and collaboration. We recommend getting familiar with the platforms before the event so that you can jump right in once our event starts. You can create a channel for your company to answer any questions about the company itself or any challenges and prizes you may be offering.

PROACTIVELY ENGAGING WITH HACKERS

Hackers will visit you during the sponsorship fair, but the engagement doesn't stop there! We encourage sponsors to bring mentors to help guide hackers. Hackers remember those who have helped them through their coding journey, and the interactions with your mentors will help keep your company in their minds as they look for jobs and internships.

JUDGING YOUR CHALLENGE

The expos are a great opportunity to engage with hackers who have been working on your challenge. Spend time getting to know the team by asking about their design process, implementation, and anything else you may be interested in. Hackers love talking about their work, and this gives you an idea of their capabilities.

BRINGING SWAG + DECKING OUT YOUR BOOTH

Make your sponsor booth yours! Feel free to bring tablecloths, banners, displays, and anything else that will make your booth unique. And of course, hackers love swag, so bring something cool to get the attention of our hackers!

HAVING THE MOST FUN

We want Bitcamp to be the most memorable hackathon experience that you've had! Take time to relax or walk around the campgrounds to see what others are up to. If you're feeling up to it, come participate in our fun mini-events and workshops!
